

Quality Policy

Schofield Lothian is a commercial and project management consultancy that serves the whole of the built environment throughout the United Kingdom and the rest of the world.

Schofield Lothian is committed to consistently providing a professional high quality service, responsive to our Clients' particular requirements, through adherence to its established effective IMS Management System and a commitment to continuous improvement.

It is our objective to meet and exceed our Clients' expectations through:

- Understanding the needs and requirements of our Clients;
- Developing and empowering our employees to do meet those needs and requirements; and
- Continuously monitoring and improving our processes.

The policy has been developed to comply with the requirements of ISO 9001:2008 and sets out our commitment to continually improve our performance.
